Latest news and events from the Green Room Project

This half term has flown by and we have been fortunate enough with the weather to get out and about on our usual dog walks, and have also started including a picnic on some Friday afternoons, with a game of Baseball, Rounders or even 'Ultimate Frisbee'! College applications were sent off and some students have already secured a place for next year, which is great. We have been on a couple of trips, one to Windsor Racecourse for a Recruitment Fair and one to the Farrer Theatre in Eton. New Skilled For Life courses have been chosen, we've had some great recycled art sessions and have introduced quote of the day, where students take turns to pick a relevant or thought provoking quote from The Big Book of Wit and Wisdom.

Farrer Theatre Trip

The Green Room students who chose the 'The Business of Showbusiness' Skilled for life unit were very fortunate to take a tour of The Farrer Theatre, Eton College. The 400 seater theatre, built in

ART THERAPY

1964 was in the midst of preparing for 'A Midsummer Night's Dream', the schoolboys' next play (also featuring our own Louise Fox as a dancing Fairy!) Our students saw the theatre from all angles, the auditorium, the stage, the control room and of course the green room. Simon Barnes (an ex Windsor Boy who has provided technical support for many of Everyday Art's shows) shared with us his expertise in technical theatre and what it takes to put on a show!

Green Room News Report

A couple of weeks ago, we turned The Green Room into a TV studio and filmed a News program, where the students were Anchormen, Weathermen, Sports Correspondents and Celebrities being interviewed. Those not on screen were the technical staff behind the scenes, Directors and Assistants, giving an overall view of the whole process of filming. The reason behind this activity was to highlight the importance of the News and why people like it, even though it is often more negative than positive.

Recycled Art sessions

Jenny Thorne, a local Artist has been visiting us for some recycled art sessions, with the idea to create art with items we throw away everyday, some of the activities included ironing plastic bags to shrink them to make a tapestry which will go up in our studio and making a great 3D wall mural which is now displayed in our Diner.

Skilled for Life New Courses

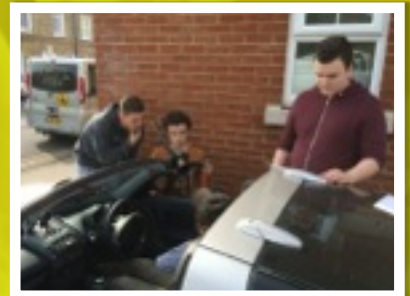

The students have chosen a new set of courses for our Skilled For Life unit, including Feel Good with Foxy - guidelines for healthy living and eating with Louise Fox, Band of Brothers which is team building - and the boys learning to push themselves, take pride in their appearance and supporting each other. Creative Media - studying film, camera techniques and equipment with the aim to create an opening to a film, and finally, Science with Syd - theory and practical demonstrations of science in everyday life.
